Title Girl's Boots

Date about 1935

Primary Maker Marie Christine Battalino

Medium Machine-stitched leather with metal eyelets and faux leather

(cardboard?) sock linings

Description Pale aqua-green toddler's ankle-high boots, styled with open tab front lacing. A white cotton shoelace laces through four pairs of enamelled metal eyelets, backed by a leather tongue. The toes are broad and rounded. The soles are flat and shaped for the right and left feet. The leather is not lined, but is stitched for strengthening along the top edge and on either side of the eyelets. The sock lining is white faux leather (perhaps glossy cardboard).

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (height x width x depth): 2 1/4 x 2 3/8 x 5 1/2in.
