building that appears to have a tiled roof are at the left. A square tower and two small buildings are at the right. In the left foreground, a woman and a child walk on grass beside a dirt road. Another woman holds a child by the arm as it reaches toward the water. A large rock is in the right foreground. Several trees surround the buildings. A large building or town is on the right bank of the river near a small sailing vessel. A castle is on one of the mountains in the background. In the lower image, VIEW OF THE ALPS, a large building, possibly a palace, in a vaguely Indian style, is at the right. It has two domes, including an onion dome, and a tower or minaret. A garden occupies most of the foreground.

It includes terraces, stone walls, steps, ornamental urns, a fountain, and sculptures of large animals, possibly dogs. Tall trees are at the left and right.

Buildings, possibly castles, are on two of the four steep mountains in the background.
