

Basic Detail Report

Title Man's Shirt

Date about 1895

Primary Maker Wachusett

Medium Machine-stitched cotton

Description Man's dress shirt with a heavily starched plastron front and narrow band collar with buttonholes worked at center front and back for using studs to attach a separate, starched collar. The shirt has a center back placket opening, which extends 14 1/4 inches. An eyelet for a decorative stud is worked in the center of the chest on the plastron front, and a single vertical pleat is stitched up the center front of the plastron. The long sleeves end in 1 3/4-inch-wide cuffs which are worked with buttonholes on both sides for taking a stud. The front and back panels of the shirt are curved at the side seams. The back panels of the shirt are gathered into the shoulder yoke.

Basic Detail Report

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (center back length x width across shoulders):

35 x 17in. (88.9 x 43.2cm)