

Basic Detail Report

Title Boy's Coat

Date about 1895-1900

Primary Maker Karl Frederick Zweibelhofer

Medium Machine-stitched silk, with cotton chemical lace, wool batting, and velvet-covered wooden (probably) buttons

Description Boy's dark blue velvet coat, with a deep, round collar of cream-colored silk faille edged with chemical lace in a floral pattern. The center front opening fastens with three velvet-covered buttons. The long, two-piece sleeves are set smoothly into the armscye and gathered at the wrist, which ends in a turned-back cuff. The cuffs, which are edged with dark blue silk-covered piping, increase in width towards the back of the arm, creating a point which is decorated with a self-covered button. The coat is lined with quilted white silk; the batting is wool, and the quilted pattern is a plain diamond grid.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (length x width between shoulders): 12 x 11in.
(30.5 x 27.9cm)