Title Trumbull Gallery, Yale College.

Date 1840

Primary Maker Robert Bakewell

Medium Lithography; printer's ink on wove paper

Description Large stone building with fluted Doric columns framing the door, louvered shuttered at windows on the ground floor, and pilasters above.
