Title Pieced Quilt

Date 1883

Primary Maker Lucy Ann Chase

Medium Hand-stitched, plain-woven printed cotton, or calico

Description Pieced quilt in a Log Cabin pattern. The quilt consists of a hand-stitched pieced top of plain-woven, printed cotton, or calico, batting, and a printed, plain-woven red cotton backing. Each pieced block consists of a red center square, surrounded by five concentric square borders in a variety of light and dark printed cottons. The blocks are arranged overall in a pattern of concentric diamonds alternating between light and dark color fabrics. Each block has a hand-stitched, quilted "X" through at the center. The blocks are foundation-pieced and hand-stitched together. The backing is printed red with a small black and white pattern. Each edge of the quilt has hand-stitched, red binding. Condition: The top is split along the edges of some blocks. The top also has areas of brown dye rot. The backing has split in many areas. The binding is split and frayed.
