Basic Detail Report

Description Map of the town of Winchester, Connecticut, with Colebrook to the north, Barkhamsted to the east, Torrington to the south, and Goshen and Norfolk to the west. Geographical features include the Still River, the Mad River, Long Lake, and an unnamed pond. The terrain is hilly; elevation is conveyed by hachure marks. The Naugatuc (Naugatuck) Railroad terminates in the village of Winsted. Streets and buildings, with names of property owners are shown. A second detailed map below the main map shows "Winsted Villages." Several vignettes are superimposed on this lower map, while others overlap the main map. Vignettes depict the business block of E. S. Woodford, George Dudley's

Store House, George Dudley's Tannery, Camp's Hall, Beardsley House (a hotel), a bank, a foundry and machine company, the Female Seminary (Rev. P. T. Holley, principal), and the residences of George Dudley, E. Beardsley, Moses Camp 2d.,

C. J. Camp, L. Hurlbut, W. Thayer, A. G. Kellogg, and John Boyd.
