

Basic Detail Report

Title North view of the Cat Hole pass in Meriden.

Date probably 1836

Primary Maker John Warner Barber

Medium Drawing; ink on paper

Description Two figures (a man and a boy?) on a road through a steep rocky gorge. The road is evidently the road from Meriden to Berlin, described in Barber's text, as leading through the Blue Mountains, later known as the Hanging Hills. Cathole Pass lies between Cathhole and South Mountain.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (overall height x width): 3 1/8 x 4 3/4 in. (8 x 12 cm)
