Traditional Irish Music & Dance Three Master Teachers & Their Apprentices

Saturday, June 4, 2011
8:00 p.m.

Merrimack Repertory Theatre
50 Merrimack Street, Lowell MA

Concert funded in part by the National Endowment for the Arts, the Massachusetts Cultural Council and the Southern New England Traditional Arts Apprenticeship Program.

This program is part of the Lowell Folklife Series and is sponsored by Lowell National Historical Park. For more info visit www.nps.gov/lowe

Fiddle player Laurel Martin and step dancers Kieran Jordan and Kevin Doyle are all recipients of 2010 Traditional Arts Apprenticeship grants, allowing them to provide a year of one-on-one teaching to talented apprentices Natalya Kay Trudeau, Emerald Rae, and Nicole Leblanc.

This concert presents a unique opportunity for collaboration, as teachers and students come together to present the results of their apprenticeships and insight into their teaching methods.

This exciting evening of solo, duet and group performances, will reveal the history and shared languages which these artists express, preserve, and pass on.
