

Basic Detail Report

Title Auspicious Signs: Tibetan Arts in New England - Tsering Yangzom

Date 1996

Basic Detail Report

Primary Maker Tsering Yangyom

Medium Photography; color slides on plastic in cardboard mount

Description Slide showing a married woman's apron made by Tsering

Yangzom. This traditional apron, pang-dhen, is worn by married women in the Lhasa area. It was woven on a frame loom making seven to eight inch-wide pieces which are then sewn together. It is made of loom-woven sheep's wool and goat hair. Loaned to the exhibit, "Auspicious Signs: Tibetan Arts in New England" by Lynne Williamson.