

Basic Detail Report

Title Donation of Smith-Worthington Saddle to Hartford Police Department Mounted Police Unit

Date 1986

Primary Maker Curtis C. Hanks

Medium Photographic prints on Kodak brand photograph paper.

Description A group of eleven photographs taken during a 1986 donation of a Smith-Worthington saddle to the Hartford Police Department Mounted Police Unit. The photographs document the interaction between [left to right] Hartford Police Chief Bernard R. Sullivan, HPD Mounted Patrol Captain Robert Maher, and President of Smith-Worthington, Curtis Hanks. The photographs are a mix of both black and white and color: (.164-.171) 8 black and white photos; (.172-.174) 3 color photos. (.164) Black and white photograph of [L-R] Hartford Police Chief Bernard R. Sullivan shaking the hand of Smith-Worthington Saddlery Co.

Basic Detail Report

President Curtis Hanks during a 1986 donation of a Smith-Worthington saddle to the Hartford Police Department Mounted Police Unit. Captain of the HPD Mounted Patrol Robert Maher stands at center behind the Hanks and Sullivan. A black leather English style saddle rests atop a chair in front of the men. (.165) Black and white photograph of [L-R]] Hartford Police Chief Bernard R. Sullivan, HPD Mounted Patrol Captain Robert Maher, and President of Smith-Worthington, Curtis Hanks taken during a 1986 donation of a Smith-Worthington saddle to the Hartford Police Department Mounted Police Unit. The men are examining a black leather English style saddle at center. (.166) Black and white photograph of [L-R] Hartford Police Chief Bernard R. Sullivan shaking the hand of Smith-Worthington Saddlery Co. President Curtis Hanks during a 1986 donation of a Smith-Worthington saddle to the Hartford Police Department Mounted Police Unit. Captain of the HPD Mounted Patrol Robert Maher stands behind Sullivan, mostly obscured. A black leather English style saddle rests atop a chair in front of the men. (.167) Candid black and white photograph of three men taken during a 1986 donation of a Smith-Worthington saddle to the Hartford Police Department Mounted Police Unit. [L-R] Hartford Police Chief Bernard R. Sullivan, Captain of the HPD Mounted Patrol Robert Maher, and Smith-Worthington Saddlery Co. President Curtis Hanks. (.168) Candid black and white photograph of three men taken during a 1986 donation of a Smith-Worthington saddle to the Hartford Police Department Mounted Police Unit. [L-R] Hartford Police Chief Bernard R. Sullivan, Captain of the HPD Mounted Patrol Robert Maher, and Smith-Worthington Saddlery Co. President Curtis Hanks. (.

Basic Detail Report

169) Black and white photograph of [L-R] Hartford Police Chief Bernard R.

Sullivan shaking the hand of Smith-Worthington Saddlery Co. President Curtis

Hanks during a 1986 donation of a Smith-Worthington saddle to the Hartford

Police Department Mounted Police Unit. Captain of the HPD Mounted Patrol

Robert Maher stands at center behind the Hanks and Sullivan. Hanks holds a black leather English style saddle under his arm. (.170) Black and white

photograph of [L-R] Hartford Police Chief Bernard R. Sullivan shaking the hand

of Smith-Worthington Saddlery Co. President Curtis Hanks during a 1986

donation of a Smith-Worthington saddle to the Hartford Police Department

Mounted Police Unit. Captain of the HPD Mounted Patrol Robert Maher stands at center behind the Hanks and Sullivan. A black leather English style saddle rests atop a chair in front of the men. (.171) Black and white photograph of [L-R]

Hartford Police Chief Bernard R. Sullivan shaking the hand of Smith-Worthington

Saddlery Co. President Curtis Hanks during a 1986 donation of a Smith-

Worthington saddle to the Hartford Police Department Mounted Police Unit.

Captain of the HPD Mounted Patrol Robert Maher stands at center behind the Hanks and Sullivan. A black leather English style saddle rests atop a chair in front of the men. (.172) Color photograph of [L-R] Hartford Police Chief Bernard

R. Sullivan shaking the hand of Smith-Worthington Saddlery Co. President Curtis

Hanks during a 1986 donation of a Smith-Worthington saddle to the Hartford

Police Department Mounted Police Unit. Captain of the HPD Mounted Patrol

Robert Maher stands at center behind the Hanks and Sullivan. A black leather English style saddle rests atop a chair in front of the men. (.173) Color

Basic Detail Report

photograph of [L-R] Hartford Police Chief Bernard R. Sullivan shaking the hand

of Smith-Worthington Saddlery Co. President Curtis Hanks during a 1986

donation of a Smith-Worthington saddle to the Hartford Police Department

Mounted Police Unit. Captain of the HPD Mounted Patrol Robert Maher stands behind Sullivan, slightly obscured. A black leather English style saddle rests atop a chair in front of the men. (.174) Color photograph of [L-R] Hartford Police Chief Bernard R. Sullivan shaking the hand of Smith-Worthington Saddlery Co.

President Curtis Hanks during a 1986 donation of a Smith-Worthington saddle to the Hartford Police Department Mounted Police Unit. Captain of the HPD

Mounted Patrol Robert Maher stands behind Sullivan, mostly obscured. A black leather English style saddle rests atop a chair in front of the men.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (.164-.171): $4 \frac{7}{8} \times 7$ in. (12.4×17.8 cm)

Primary Dimensions (.172-.174): 8×10 in. (20.3×25.4 cm)