

Basic Detail Report

Title Man's Gloves

Date about 1765

Primary Maker Unknown

Medium Hand-stitched kid (?) leather, with an applied white finish

Description Leather gauntlet-style gloves with an applied white finish. The gauntlet has a curved opening on the side opposite the thumb. The gauntlets are lined with an additional layer of leather, making them very stiff; the opening edge around the gauntlet has a narrow binding of the leather. This pair of gloves was provided to a mourner at the funeral of Reuben Shalor in 1765.

Basic Detail Report

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (length x width): 11 1/4 x 4 1/2in. (28.6 x 11.4cm)