Title Woman's Shoes

Date about 1760-1770

Primary Maker Jonathan Hose & Son

Medium Hand-stitched silk satin, linen, leather, and wood

Description White silk satin shoes with an oval toe, Louis heel, and latches which cross the vamp and would have been held by a buckle. The tongue is wide and square, with a slight dip in the center. The continuous leather sole covers the front of the heel. The heel is also covered with the white satin. The silk is lined with plain-woven linen and bound with white silk tape. There is no rand. The shoes are straight, not right and left. The vamp has been split and whip-stitched to finish the raw edges in order to make the shoe a bit wider across the instep.
