Medium Mechanically-molded ironstone with underglaze cobalt blue decoration

Description Round, white, ironstone plate with a transfer-printed underglaze cobalt blue pattern. The plate has a circular, flat foot and a deeply flaring rim.

leafless trees growing in an area surrounded by a fence. This scene is surrounded by a narrow border of semi-circles and triangles on a dark blue field.

Above the scene is a circular seal with an open book superimposed over a shield in the center. Unknown words are printed in Hebrew on the book, while the Latin words "LUX ET VERITAS" surround the shield. The shield and words are surrounded by a white border with the words "SIGILL : COLL : YALEN : NOV :

PORT : NOV : ANGL :". The deep rim on the plate is decorated with six different oval scenes, each showing a different building from the Yale University campus.

First is a three-story building with a flat roof, titled "YALE LAW SCHOOL", then a rambling structure with a tower titled "SCIENTIFIC SCHOOL". Next is a domed building titled "BI-CENTENNIAL BUILDING", then a 'U'-shaped four-story building surrounding a tree in a courtyard titled "VANDERBILT HALL". Finally, a tall building over an arched doorway is titled "PHELPS HALL" and a three-story building with four arches before the main doorway is titled "OSBORN HALL".

Surrounding these scenes, at the edge of the rim, is a border of semi-circles with leaves inside on a dark blue field.
