

Basic Detail Report

Title The Ninth Air Force Sweeps Down in Consolidated B-24

Liberators Powered by Turbo- Supercharged Pratt & Whitney Twin

Wasps

Date 1943

Primary Maker Clayton Knight

Medium Lithography; printer's ink on wove paper

Description Airplanes with United States insignia drop bombs on oil fields with oil tanks, railroad tracks, industrial buildings with smokestacks. Machine guns are fired from the foremost plane. Additional bombers are in the background.

Flames engulf some buildings. It appears to be night.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (image height x width): 11 5/8 x 16 3/4in. (29.5 x

42.5cm) Sheet (height x width): 14 5/8 x 19 1/2in. (37.1 x 49.5cm)