Title Railway map of the New England States

Date 1873

Medium Lithography; black printer's ink on wove paper

Description Map of the New England states, part of New York State along the Hudson River, and part of Canada, with state and country boundaries delineated with broken solid lines. The focus of the map is the railroads, both finished and unfinished, that are depicted across New England, New York and Canada. In Connecticut, the railroads include the New York and New Haven; New Haven, Hartford and Springfield; Canal; the Housatonic; Danbury and Norwalk; Hartford, Providence and Fishkill; New London and Northern; Connecticut Western; New Haven, New London and Stonington; Stonington and Providence; and Norwich and Worcester. The cities in which the railroads stopped are listed and marked with open circles. On the verso, the timetables for mail, steamers, and passenger and freight trains leaving Boston for the week of June 2-8, 1873.

At the bottom of the page are five advertisements for businesses in Boston.
