

Basic Detail Renort

Title Borough of Danielsonville in Towns of Killingly and Brooklyn

Date 1869

Basic Detail Report

Primary Maker Orlando Willis Gray

Medium Lithography; black printer's ink and watercolor on wove paper

Description Map of the borough of Danielsonville as it spans the towns of Killingly and Brooklyn, Connecticut. Killingly, colored yellow, is shown from

Westfield Cemetery to the north, Broad Street to the east, the Quinebaug River to the south, and Maple Street to the west. The Norwich and Worcester Railroad line runs north-south through Killingly. Brooklyn, colored red, is on the other side of the river. Danielsonville is located primarily in Killingly, near the river.

Roads are labeled and lined with residences and businesses, which are labeled with the owner's name or the name of the business. On the left side is a directory of Danielsonville that contains listings for attornies, agents, the bank, druggists, physicians and dentists, merchants and dealers, a jeweler, an engineer, manufacturers, hotels, the sheriff, milliners, carpenters and builders, painters, a photographer, a blacksmith and a collector.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (image height x width): 28 x 17 1/8in. (71.1 x 43.5

cm) Sheet (height x width): 28 1/2 x 18 1/4in. (72.4 x 46.4cm)