Massachusetts. Although existing railroads are listed in the Explanations, there do not appear to be any shown on the map. There is a proposed railroad between Albany, New York, and Boston, Massachusetts. Physical features depicted include elevation, conveyed through hachure marks; rivers; and lakes.

At the bottom of the sheet is a statistical table containing population information for counties in the three states for 1820 and 1830. The inside front cover also contains population information, for the towns.
