

Basic Detail Report

Title South view in the central part of Cheshire.

Date probably 1836

Primary Maker John Warner Barber

Medium Drawing; ink on paper

Description A man, woman and boy stand on the roadside facing another boy.

Near by a tavern sign hangs in front of a building that slightly impedes the view of the Congregational Church. The road continues past a flag pole topped with a liberty cap and past the Academy on the extreme right in the distance. Behind the flagpole the spire of the Episcopal Church is evident; to its left stands a brick building without a spire that houses the Methodist Church.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (overall height x width): 3 9/16 x 4 3/4in. (9 x 12cm)
