

Basic Detail Report

Title Booklet

Date 1838-1851

Medium Paper

Description A blank brown paper book sold by Brown and Parsons. The front cover has a drawing called "View of Berlin" in the center. The top portion of the booklet cover describes the "Federal Money of the United States of America", and shows the roman numerals from 1 to 1840. The bottom of the front cover describes Brown and Parsons company. The back cover two drawings of Peter Botte Mountain, Mauritius, and Natural Bridge, Virginia. A table depicting the American dollar and the British dollar is also visible. The bottom of the back cover has a multiplication table. Inside the booklet are blank pages.