

Basic Detail Report

Title Auspicious Signs: Tibetan Arts in New England - Kalsang Jorden

Date 1996

Medium Photography; color slides on plastic in cardboard mount

Description 2015.196.203.1: Slide showing Tibetan Thangka painting, of Chakdor, Protector from evil. Fierce and powerful, the protector deities guard the faith of Buddhism. Acrylic and poster colors on canvas. Loaned to the "Auspicious Signs: Tibetan Arts in New England" exhibit by the artist.

2015.196.203.2: Slide showing The Wheel of Life, which explains the Buddhist concept of life, death, and rebirth according to the principle of karma. Acrylic and poster colors on canvas. Loaned to the exhibit by the artist. 2015.196.203.3:

Slide showing Tibetan Thangka painting of Dolma (White Tara), a goddess representing long life. Tara is revered by Tibetans as a beloved protectress and a deity who fulfills wishes. Acrylic and poster colors on canvas. Loaned to the exhibit by the artist.