Title Plan of Hartford and Springfield Rail-Road

Date probably 1841-1844

Primary Maker Philander Anderson

Medium Engraving; black printer's ink on wove paper

Description Map of the Hartford and Springfield Railroad, oriented horizontally on the map so that Hartford is on the left side of the sheet and Springfield is on the right. The west line, from Hartford to Springfield, is shown running along the west side of the Connecticut River on the map, with its profile appearing at the top of the map. The east line, from Springfield to Hartford, is shown running along the east side of the Connecticut River, with its profile appearing at the bottom. Above the east line profile near the center is a profile of where the lines cross the river. Some of the streets of Hartford and Springfield are delineated but not named, and the names of the towns along both lines are included.
