

Basic Detail Report

THE FRIGHTFUL COLLISION ON THE HOUSATONIC RAILROAD, NEAR BRIDGEPORT, CONN.—From Sketches by our Special Artist, C. E. H. Bawill

THE SCIENTISTS INSURE WITHOUT TAKING THE RISK THEMSELVES CAN

[illegible]

STATE OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, DEPARTMENT OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, OFFICE OF THE DISTRICT CLERK.

ment, and was born at St. Thomas, Lower Canada, in 1857. In the year of 1883 he obtained an ardent's commission in the Canadian army, and took part in the battle of Hamaburg. Upon his discharge of peace he went to England and the United States, he studied medicine, and practiced till 1891, when being elected a member of the Canadian parliament, he devoted himself to a political life. From the retirement of May 24th to 1895, Mr. Tache was made chief of the cabinet. In 1895, following the election, he was designated for Canada, where he was elected as Canada, in 1894 he was again made CHIEF, a position he

[illegible]

Yusef Saïd, President of Faculty and of Students, the

REMOVING THE BILLS AND WRITING-BANKERS FROM THE IMAGE

THE INTERIOR OF THE WHIRLED CAR, SHOWING THE BRIDGE CONFIDENTLY DRESSING AND CHATTING.

Title The Frightful Collision on the Housatonic Railroad, near Bridgeport, Conn.

Date 1865

Primary Maker Charles E. H. Bonwell

Basic Detail Report

Medium Wood engraving; printer's ink on wove paper

Description Four views of a railroad accident. In the upper view, the locomotive has crashed into the rear passenger car. Several people appear to be jumping out of the windows. The middle view shows empty railroad tracks with what appears to be telegraph wire running beside it. In the lower left view, men and women are being carried from the wrecked car and placed on the ground. The lower right view shows the remains of the engine and debris in the interior of the wrecked car.

Dimensions Sheet (height x width): 15 13/16 x 10 15/16in. (40.2 x 27.8cm)