

A black and white photograph of a large industrial building, likely a mill, situated on a rocky bank overlooking a body of water. The building has multiple stories and many windows. A stone bridge or dam structure is visible in the foreground, spanning the water. The scene is surrounded by dense trees and foliage.

Title Clock factory, Winsted, Connecticut

Date 1875

Primary Maker F. H. DeMars

Medium Photography; gelatin silver on glass