Title Woman's Shoes

Date about 1925-1935

Primary Maker Putnam family

Medium Machine-stitched silk and leather, with silk-covered wooden heel and metal buckle and tacks

Description Black ribbed silk shoes, with a T-strap. The vamp is designed with three narrow, concentric semicircles of silver-colored leather laid over an openwork geometric design. The quarters are also cut with an open triangular design on either side of the strap. The semicircular buckle is set with five small paste diamonds. The toe shape is oval, and the straight, Louis heel is covered with the black fabric. The shoe is lined with white leather.
