Title Infant's Shoe

Date about 1830-1845

Primary Maker Herbert Gustavus Kellogg

Medium Hand-stitched leather, with iron tacks

Description Dark leather open tab shoe, reaching just below the ankle. The quarters slant forward, forming the tabs, which are each punched with a single eyelet for lacing. The vamp is continuous under the tabs, forming a short tongue; it is punched with two eyelets, so that the shoestring would be laced through the tabs and tongue. The quarters are lined with leather. The heel is a single thickness of leather, held on with iron tacks. The sole is straight.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (height x width x depth): 2 1/4 x 2 x 5in. (5.7 x 5.1 x 12.7cm)
