

Basic Detail Report

Title Woman in Colonial Revival Costume at a Spinning Wheel

Date 1905-1920

Primary Maker Tarza Studio

Medium Photography; gelatin silver print on paper

Description A woman, wearing a Colonial Revival dress and wig, sits at a spinning wheel and holds a piece of thread. A cut-out photograph of a spinning wheel has been pasted over the larger picture at the bottom right, mostly covering the original spinning wheel. A design is embossed on the top left corner of the front cover. Inside an oval is a ship with billowing sails.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (image height x width, in mat): 8 1/16 x 6in.

(20.5 x 15.3cm) Folder (height x width, closed): 13 3/16 x 9 13/16in. (33.5 x 25cm)