Title Infant's Dress

Date about 1890

Primary Maker Clark family

Medium Machine-stitched cotton, with mother of pearl buttons

Description Infant's long dress of calico, white printed with small pink flower heads grouped in twos. The dress has a yoke across the front and back and a high, round neckline edged with featherstitching and an eyelet ruffle. The bottom edge of the yoke is also trimmed this way. The long sleeves are set smoothly into the armhole and are gathered into cuffs of the featherstitched band and eyelet ruffle. The long skirt is gathered into the bottom of the yoke. The center back opening is eight inches long and fastens with three (one is missing) mother of pearl buttons.
