Title Smoking Jacket

Date 1950-1960

Primary Maker Dr. Nestor William Wawro

Medium Machine-stitched rayon, and possibly silk and cotton

Description Man's smoking jacket of burgundy cotton velvet, with a shawl collar of black faille (ribbed weave fabric, possibly of a synthetic fiber). The jacket has a welted breast pocket on the proper left side and a pocket over each hip in front.

The jacket fastens with a single button at the base of the shawl collar; the button is covered in the black faille. The two-piece sleeves end in turned-back cuffs of the black faille, with curved notches at the outside of the wrist. The jacket is vented for 9 1/2 inches at the lower center back; it is lined with red rayon satin.

There is satin ribbon loop stitched at the back of the neck for hanging.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (jacket length x width across shoulders): 30 1/4 x 18 3/4in. (76.8 x 47.6cm)
