Title Jug

Date about 1890-1910

Primary Maker Sisson Drug Co.

Medium Mechanically-molded stoneware with a white glaze and brown slip glaze

Description Cylindrical, shouldered, buff-colored stoneware jug with a cylindrical rim and cork, inverted conical neck, horizontal shoulder, cylindrical body, and recessed bottom. An applied handle connects the rim with the shoulder of the jug. Above the shoulder, the jug is glazed with a brown slip glaze, or Albany-type glaze. The shoulder is left unglazed, and below the shoulder the jug is glazed with a white glaze, or Bristol-type glaze. Several small indentations in the white glazed portion of the jug are the result of the uneven stoneware surface below. There is a chip in the stoneware just below the handle.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (height including cork x diameter): 12 x 7 1/4in.
