Title Toby Jug

Date mid 19th century

Primary Maker Unknown

Medium Cast earthenware with a translucent brown glaze

Description Small figural jug of earthenware with a translucent brown glaze, a type of ceramic known as Rockingham ware. The jug has a circular foot and globular body shaped as the face of a man wearing a three-cornered hat, a form of ceramic known as a Toby Jug. There is a ribbon on one side of the man's hat, and he has shoulder-length wavy hair. A molded and applied handle connects the back of the man's hat with the globular body of the jug. There are two mold lines, each on a side of the jug, and three stilt marks located near the foot. There is crazing over all the surfaces of the jug.
