

Basic Detail Report

Title Trivet

Date 1980-1985

Primary Maker Unknown

Medium Press-molded white earthenware with brown enamel; cork

Description Trivet consisting of a square, white earthenware tile with a thin, square sheet of cork adhered to the bottom. The trivet is decorated with a printed brown enamel scene showing a two-story building with a small porch, multi-paned windows, and corner quoins. The building is surrounded by trees and sits back on a small lawn. there is a lamp post near the street in the foreground. A small sign is located near the sidewalk that leads to the front door. A title to the lower left of the decoration reads, "Simsbury Free Library/ Built in 1877". A small metal loop on a textile and paper backing is inserted into a slot in the cork backing.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (width x depth): 6 x 6in. (15.2 x 15.2cm)