

Basic Detail Report

Title Aftermath of Tornado, Bradley Air Museum, Windsor Locks

Date October 3-4, 1979

Primary Maker Carl Candels

Medium Photography; gelatin silver prints on paper

Description Wreckage of airplanes and buildings is strewn across a field. Signs read: "Bradley AIR MUSEUM." Some planes bear lettering that reads "FEDERAL / EXPRESS" "215 NATC" "NAVY" "U.S. AIR FORCE". Some photographs show the interior of the museum with damaged aircraft. In one photograph, Philip C. O'Keefe, museum director, is holding the Connecticut Air National Guard logo from a CT-29A Transport. Some photographs include automobiles, trucks, streets, and trees. One photograph includes a cash register and an air conditioner. The corner of an airport runway is visible in the background of one photograph.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (image height x width): 7 5/16 x 9 5/8in. (18.6 x 24.4cm) Sheet (height x width): 8 x 10in. (20.3 x 25.4cm)