

Basic Detail Report

Title Brown-Robertson Estate

Medium Painting; probably oil on canvas in a wooden frame

Description Modern painting showing a white house with two chimneys to the extreme right of the canvas, with a white outbuilding to the rear of it. There is a path which leads from the bottom of the canvas behind the outbuilding and disappears into the treed and wooded area. To the very left can be seen a red structure obscured by trees, which is possibly the barn. There are various shrubs around the house and trees scattered in the front of and behind the outbuilding. The painting is in a modern painted wooden frame, which has been speckled with brown paint.
