Description View of the inside of a log cabin. In the center is a fireplace. A long pole is hanging over the mantle. There is a chair sitting to the left of the fireplace, and a bundle of equipment is on the ground next to it. There is also one shoe on the chair and another on the ground in front of it. To the right of the fireplace is a small table that has a fishing net and basket on it. There is a large canvas bag on the ground next to it. The walls of the cabin are made of large logs and the cracks between them are filled with mud or putty.
