

Basic Detail Report

Title Glastonbury Cotton Factory.

Date 1834

Primary Maker John Warner Barber

Medium Drawing; pencil on paper

Description View looking down the glen at Cotton Hollow, also known as Cotton Factory Village. Roaring Brook flows steeply downhill with trees on either side, inscribed "Button wood / interspersed / with / Hemlock" on the left and "Hemlock" on the right. Houses and other buildings line the stream on the left; large industrial buildings are in the background. Barber, in his text, identifies the business as the Hartford Manufacturing Co

Dimensions Sheet (height x width): 7 1/16 x 9 1/16in. (18 x 23cm)