Title Tariffville (Simsbury)

Date 1834

Primary Maker John Warner Barber

Medium Drawing; pencil on paper

Description View of Tariffville from the south. A man seated in a rocky field among tree stumps in the foreground. The village lies in the valley below. The most prominent building is the large "stone factory," probably operated by the New England Carpet Company. Other industrial buildings and houses cluster around the factory. A "tavern - white" is at the far left. A steep wooded hill is in the right background.
