

Basic Detail Report

Title Putnam's Hill, Greenwich.

Date probably 1836

Primary Maker John Warner Barber

Medium Drawing; ink on paper

Description A stagecoach ascends a stone causeway towards the crest of a steep hill on the right. A saltbox and its outbuildings stand among trees at the top of the hill. The hillside on the left is rocky with scattered trees. A man probably intended as a self-portrait, sits sketching in front of a stone wall in the foreground.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (overall height x width): 3 15/16 x 4 5/16in. (10 x 11cm)