

Basic Detail Report

Title Atlantic Hotel, Bridgeport

Date about 1885

Primary Maker Edward C. Betts

Medium Photography; albumen print on paper on cardboard mount

Description Large five-story brick hotel building with signs that read: "Atlantic Hotel." Additional signs on the ground floor read: "Atlantic Hotel / News Room" "J.D. Toomey." To the left of the hotel, a building has signs that read: "Singer Sewing Machines" "Baths / Hot or Cold." A striped pole probably indicates a barbershop. The building in the right foreground appears to be a railway station. A sign on it reads "Adams [Express]." Several horse-drawn wagons are on the streets. A utility pole is at the right.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (overall height x width): 4 5/16 x 6 5/16in. (11 x 16cm)