

Basic Detail Report

Title 'I Spent My Life Looking for Honest Men...Just What are You

Looking For?'

Date 1971

Primary Maker Edmund S. Valtman

Medium Drawing; black and colored ink on paper

Description Political cartoon drawing of a line of people with numbers pinned to their clothes beneath a sign that reads, "Panel of prospective jurors for Bobby Seale trial." Two men, their clothing labeled, "Prosecutor" and "Defense attorney" respectively, are choosing individuals from the line while turning back to speak to a figure labeled "Diogenes", who is wearing a robe and carrying a staff and lantern. On the back is a sketch of Richard Nixon's head and shoulders.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (image height x width): 9 1/4 x 13 3/4in. (23.5 x 34.9cm) Sheet (height x width): 11 3/8 x 14 3/8in. (28.9 x 36.5cm)