Description A man in a white coat sits facing a young woman. He wears glasses and holds a dental tool or drill attached to a tube. A small dental sink is beside him. A glass dome covers parts of the drill apparatus. Wires and tubes extend towards the wall. The woman's chair has a headrest. A second sink is in the corner with a telephone on a shelf above. An examination table is at the right. A small calendar is on a shelf at the left. Bottles of chemicals or medicines are on a counter and desk in the background. An electric light hangs from the ceiling.
