

Basic Detail Report

Title Bowl of Roses

Date 1897

Medium Painting; oil on canvas in frame

Description Framed still life painting by Ethel Jenkins Bidwell of three roses types of roses in a white bowl that rests on what is probably a table top. The roses fill the bowl, branching out to the left of the bowl in the central and left portions of the painting. There are three deep red roses on the right, three pinkish roses next to them and one lying on the table, and two yellowish roses behind and to the left of these. One rose bud is located to the left of the other roses. The background is dark with tinges of red.

Dimensions Stretcher (height x width): 15 × 18 1/8in. (38.1 × 46cm) Frame (height x width): 18 1/2 × 21 3/4in. (47 × 55.2cm)