Description A negative strip with images of San Francisco, California, 1952-1953.

(.11) Edward Rogalski with his military company in uniform posed in front of a café in San Francisco. Rogalski is standing in the middle of the group. A sign in front of the building reads, "PACIFIC / CAFÉ / CHOW MEIN." (.12) A distant view of the San Francisco City Hall. The building is a French Renaissance style with a rectangle base and a dome in the middle. Vehicles are seen driving on the street and parked next to the buildings surrounding the city hall. (.13) Landscape view of a street in San Francisco. The image is taken from the top of a street hill looking down. (.14) A street view of Chinatown in San Francisco. Pedestrians are seen on the left corner on the sidewalk. On both sides of the street are storefronts with advertisement signs attached. Automobiles are parked beside the curb. Signs reads, "CHINESE / PAGODA" , "THE / ROYAL HOUSE / Curt Goods" , "KUNG-AN / DRUGS" . (.15) Edward Rogalski in uniform standing with another soldier. A back view of a woman with a hat and coat stands at the bottom left corner of the image. Behind them is a body of water and high-rise hills.
