Description Born digital photograph of two signs on a fence at the Connecticut State Employees Credit Union on Hudson Street in Hartford, Connecticut during the COVID-19 Pandemic. This bank is on the other end of the block from where Hartford Hospital set up its COVID-19 testing station. People must have arrived at the credit union thinking they were in line for a medical test at Hartford Hospital. The sign on the left reads, "No / Trespassing / Violators / Will Be / Prosecuted." The sign on the right reads, "Este no es un / sitio de prueba / para COVID-19" in Spanish on top and "This is not a / COVID-19 test site" in English on the bottom. There is a fire hydrant in front of the fence.
