Title Interview with Dustin Currier

Date 2022 July 7

Medium born digital audio file

Description (a) Interview with Dustin Currier. Interviewed by Penny Newbury on 7 July 2022 in Norwich, Connecticut. (b) Photograph of Dustin Currier taken at his interview. He was interviewed as part of the Connecticut Historical Society's Community History Project discussing his experience during the COVID-19 Pandemic. At the time of the interview, Dustin was a landscaper at The Arc of Eastern Connecticut. Dustin first heard about Covid while living in a group home. During Covid, Dustin spent time online researching Covid, cars, and fire departments. He also played video games. He stayed in touch with his family, though he could not see them because he lived at a group home. He was out of work. Dustin protected himself by staying away from people who had Covid. He was happy when he learned about the vaccine and felt that some places should require masks, but some should not. During the pandemic, Dustin was scared that he was going to catch Covid and die from it. Dustin's advice to people who experience a future pandemic is to wear your mask and stay away from a lot of people.
