Title Woman's Nightgown

Date about 1895-1905

Primary Maker Unknown

Medium Machine-stitched cotton, with hand-stitched embroidery and machine-stitched embroidery, and silk ribbon

Description Woman's white cotton nightgown, with a wide neckline gathered on a pink silk ribbon. The top of the nightgown, for a depth of about 6 1/2 inches, front and back, is made of horizontal strips of floral embroidery, worked with a herringbone stitch from the back to make it look like shadow appliqué, alternating with machine-made insertion threaded with pink silk. This insertion, without the ribbon, surrounds the armholes. The sleeves consist of flounces, 8 1/2 inches deep at the top, four inches deep at the bottom, with the floral embroidery decorating the edges.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (front length x width across shoulder x hem diameter): 52 x 15 x 108in. (132.1 x 38.1 x 274.3cm)
