

Basic Detail Report

Title Boy's Chemisette

Date about 1825-1850

Primary Maker Geer family

Medium Hand-stitched cotton, with mother of pearl buttons

Description Boy's chemisette (or "dickey"), with a four-inch-wide collar, which probably folded down over a handkerchief or cravat. The center front placket opening fastens with three mother of pearl buttons. The body extends to the shoulders and then down to about mid-rib cage. The sides are open. The bottom is stitched with a casing through which a drawstring is inserted; it ties on the proper right side. The shoulderline is inserted with gussets to accomodate the collar. The front is more closely gathered into the neckline than the back.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (overall height x width): 11 × 16in. (27.9 × 40.6 cm)