Title Child's Combination

Date about 1880-1900

Medium Machine-stitched cotton, with mother of pearl buttons

Description Girl's combination undergarment of plain white cotton, with a 3/4-inch-wide band collar trimmed with rickrack. The combination opens at center front from the neckline to the crotch and fastens with four mother of pearl buttons. The long sleeves are constructed of two pieces with an upper and lower seam; they are set smoothly into the armscye and are gathered into a band at the wrist. The legs appear to have been shortened, as the hem is roughly hand-stitched. This garment is cut on the bias.
