

Basic Detail Report

Title Harper's Weekly, Volume V, No. 227

Date Saturday, 4 May 1861

Medium Wood-engraving and letterpress; printer's ink on wove paper

Description Page 283 includes an illustration entitled "First Blood - The Sixth

Massachusetts Regiment Fighting their Way through Baltimore, April 19, 1861."

Other illustrations include "The House-Tops in Charleston during the

Bombardment of Sumter" "The Great Meeting in Union Square, New York, to

Support the Government, April 20, 1861" "Harper's Ferry, Va." "The Boston

Regiments Embarking for Washington in the Jersey City Cars" "The Seventh

Regiment Marching down Broadway to Embark for the War" "Departure of the Transport Steamers from New York for Washington with Volunteers, Sunday,

April 21, 1861" "The 'R.R. Cuyler' sailing from New York with the Seventy-first

Regiment New York State Militia on Board, April 21, 1861" "Stevens Bomb-proof

Floating Battery" "Recruits drilling in Squadrons on Governor's Island, New York" "Parade of United States Troops on Governor's Island before

Embarkation."

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (image height x width): 9 1/8 x 13 5/8in. (23.2 x

34.6cm) Sheet (height x width): 11 1/4 x 15 7/8in. (28.6 x 40.3cm)