Date mid 19th century

Primary Maker Enfield Shaker Community

Medium Mold-formed redware

Description Heavy, thick, unglazed, redware pipe with a hollow, cylindrical center and tapered, exterior form. At the widest end of the pipe, the cylindrical, hollow area is widened to accommodate the narrow end of another length of pipe. The exterior of the pipe is an uneven red and tan color; two mold lines extend the length of the pipe. There are some cracks in the surface of the redware on the inside of the pipe. There are two chips in the widest end of the pipe, and many smaller chips in the narrower end of the pipe.

Dimensions Primary Dimensions (length x diameter): 23 1/8 x 4 3/4in. (58.7 x 12.1 cm)
